

Allison Wohl

ODEP Subject Matter Expert

Allison Wohl is the executive director of the Collaboration to Promote Self-Determination, a coalition of 22 national groups advocating for the full inclusion of citizens with significant disabilities. She is the mom of three boys, the youngest of whom has Down syndrome.

Allison provides Technical Assistance for the Employment First Community of Practice webinars that are conducted for the state of Tennessee. She focuses on dissemination of materials and coordination of the webinars.